Double Patenting

1. Claims 1-6 , 10-13 and 16 are remain provisional rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 3-7, 13 and 17 of the copending application No. 10/681,068. (See paragraphs 1-3 of the office action dated on 1/24/06).

2. Claims 1-16 are remain rejected under 35 USC 102(b) as being anticipated by Regelman et al (6,574,626). (See paragraph 4 of the office action dated on 7/13/06).

3. Applicant's arguments filed on 10/20/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive because:

Applicant argues that Regelman does not disclose determining a required memory needed to execute a plurality of test vectors.

a. Examiner disagrees with applicant because Regelman reference disclose "the tester must be equipped with a significant amount of memory to properly store all of the test vectors" and "historically, memory testers use SRAM for program storage. The SRAM is embedded into the tester ASIC to achieve the greatest tester efficiency". (See col. 2, lines 21-28). Therefore, the step of determining a required memory needed to execute a plurality of test vectors is inherent in the system of Regelman. This is because that is what an engineer should do to determine a required memory capacity that could properly store all of the test vectors before executing the test vectors.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
